VICTIM SERVICES BRANCH OVERVIEW

Established in 1992, Victim Services is a Branch of the Hamilton Police Service. It is the only 24 hour crisis intervention service for victims of crime and/or tragic circumstance in the City of Hamilton.

We respond to the immediate needs of people who have been victimized by crime and/or experienced a traumatic incident such as homicide, suicide, sudden death, assault, domestic violence, sexual assault, human trafficking, hate crime, traffic, workplace or fire fatalities, robberies, and harassment, among other circumstances. Individuals, families, businesses and organizations receive critical crisis intervention as well as support, information, and referrals to assist them in healing from the trauma of the incident.

Accessing support from the Victim Services Branch does not require police involvement or a formal police report be made. If you choose, we can assist you in navigating the reporting process, as well as provide support throughout the investigation and beyond, as there are no time limits to access support through our branch.

If you or someone you know has been a victim of crime and/or experienced a traumatic incident and need someone to talk to, please call our 24/7 line at 905-546-4904. We are here to support you.

COPING WITH TRAUMA

Events such as a sexual assault, abuse, the death of a loved one, a natural disaster, etc., can be traumatic. These types of situations can result in unpleasant feelings and emotions – both during and after such events.

Responses to a stressful situation vary greatly from person to person and not all people will experience the same reaction at the same level of intensity, nor for the same length of time. However, it is important to recognize that whatever the reaction is, it is often a normal human response to a stressful situation.

What to Expect

Most people who have been impacted by crime or a tragic circumstance experience normal physical and emotional reactions. Some things you may experience include:

Physical

- ▶ Difficulty sleeping
- ▶ Change in appetite
- ▶ Back or stomach aches
- ▶ Headaches
- ▶ Fatigue

Thinking

- ▶ Difficulty concentrating
- ▶ Replaying event over and over in your mind
- ▶ Nightmares
- ▶ Blaming yourself or others who are not responsible

Behavioural

- ▶ Crying
- ▶ Need to be alone or around others
- ▶ Emotional outbursts
- ▶ Pacing

Emotional

- ▶ Anger
- ▶ Anxiety
- ▶ Feeling overwhelmed
- ▶ Guilt
- ▶ Panic
- ▶ Sadness/Withdrawal
- ▶ Fear
- ▶ Irritability

COPING STRATEGIES

It is important to remember that traumatic events fall outside of everyday life. You may need some new strategies to cope with an unexpected event.

Helpful things to try may include:

- ▶ Talk to someone you trust
- ▶ Give yourself permission to reach out for professional help (e.g. family doctor, Employee Assistance Program [EAP], community organizations, etc.)
- ▶ Spend time with supportive family and friends
- ▶ Give yourself permission to have difficult moments
- ▶ Try to avoid self-defeating thoughts (e.g. “I can’t manage...”, “nothing matters...”, etc.) and instead try to focus on one day/moment at a time
- ▶ Try to maintain a regular routine
- ▶ Resist making life changing decisions following a serious incident
- ▶ Give yourself time to mend
- ▶ Be aware that traumatic events can sometimes bring back memories of past traumatic events

- ▶ Write out or journal your experiences, thoughts and feelings – this may be especially useful through sleepless nights
- ▶ Avoid overuse of alcohol, drugs, caffeine, nicotine
- ▶ Try to eat healthy food options and exercise if possible
- ▶ Don't try and fight dreams or flashbacks. They are normal and will become less intense and painful over time. If they do not appear to be decreasing over time, you may need to seek assistance as there are additional strategies that may help manage these
- ▶ Practice deep breathing – inhale slowly to a count of 4, hold your breath to a count of 4, and exhale to a count of 4 and repeat until you are breathing more easily

SUPPORTING CHILDREN

Children who have been involved in a traumatic incident need the attention and close physical contact of their parents or caregivers. Some helpful strategies are listed below:

- ▶ Reassure them of their physical safety
- ▶ Take opportunities to listen and talk to the child
- ▶ Talk about your own reactions with the child, in an age appropriate way
- ▶ Invite conversation so children feel encouraged to share their concerns and reactions too
- ▶ Allow them to set their own pace
- ▶ Try to keep routes as normal as possible
- ▶ Encourage them to play and draw – a good way to cope with stress and anxious feelings
- ▶ Practice relaxation techniques with them
- ▶ Seek professional help if you need assistance or have concerns about your child's reaction and/or response. Often, parents can receive helpful coaching by a professional to effectively support their child

VICTIM SERVICE BRANCH SUPPORT OPTIONS

On-Scene or Phone Support

Support is provided by the Victim Services Branch team on the phone, in office, or other locations as necessary alongside police (e.g. on scene, at private residences, hospitals, organizations, etc.). Emotional support, coping strategies, safety planning, as well as information about community services, resources and referrals are provided. With support from our Volunteer team, we are able to provide this assistance 24/7.

Interview Support

In addition to the support options detailed above, our team is also able to provide support should you need to attend an interview with an investigator. All options are guided by the individual, as we encourage informed choice and promote empowerment.

EDUCATION, AWARENESS AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Victim Services Provides internal training to Hamilton Police Service Officers on victims' issues and the support options offered by the Victim Services Branch. Victim Services also provides external community training when requested on victimology related topics and support options available.

Additionally, the Victim Services Branch collaborates with several community organizations to provide training, information and wrap-around services for those in need of support (See page 10 for an example of resource options in the City of Hamilton).

PROGRAMS

Sexual Assault Support Program

The Victim Services Branch offers support to victims/survivors of sexual violence throughout the investigative process in collaboration with the Sex Crimes Unit or Criminal Investigation Division. Support options can include: emotional support, safety planning, practical assistance, and connection to community resources. We also offer the option of having a member from Victim Services support during the police interview if preferred.

Trauma Bear Program

The Victim Services Branch administers the Trauma Bear Program by ensuring all Hamilton Police Service vehicles contain Trauma Bears. Police Officers and Victim Services give Trauma Bears to children at the scene to provide some comfort during the aftermath of a crime and/or traumatic incident.
